Here's what you'll get: A lot of power: Each of your printers will become your own server, able to receive jobs from any number of clients. The right speed: When you use VPS, your print jobs will be offloaded to the nearest server, and when a printer needs to be resteamed, you'll be able to print from another printer. The ability to monitor it all: At your discretion, you can monitor each of your printers using a web interface. A user-friendly web console: Simply log in and navigate through the control panel. Advanced Mail Merge: On top of its excellent mail merge capabilities, the software can merge, format and print reports that you can create with Microsoft Word or Access. Flexible: Envelope Printing Software is flexible. You can set the headers, footers, envelopes, add your own logo, print special messages and even create barcodes and watermarks. How to use: Step 1. Sign in to Envelopes Printing Software and click "Merge and Print" from the top toolbar. Step 2. Enter the document and the template that you want to merge into, and click "Merge". Step 3. If you want to use your own document, select it and click "Import". 77a5ca646e
