The Old Gods reside in the world which has existed for eternity, and the Sunken Realms have become their turf. A net of arcane magic was cast upon the world when a silent storm appeared, and so the lands of Yharnam have since returned to the sway of the Old Gods. The folk here believe in a tragic myth, that the Old Gods will send the Frost Queen back into the world. It is said that she will return when all of the world has become a frozen wasteland. However, you are not their enemy. You have come to the Land Between from the other world. You and the lords and ladies who escort you are protected by a mysterious company, and you have all been tasked with restoring the world to the glory of the Old Gods. But you are no warriors of light. On the contrary, you are enemies of the Old Gods. You were exiled by them and then imprisoned for millennia. You have forgotten the way of the light in the valley of crime and blood. It is said the time when that exile shall end and you shall face the righteous wrath of the Old Gods will come. Rage, Tarnished, and be guided by grace to brandish the power of the Elden Ring Cracked Version and become an Elden Lord in the Lands Between. Rhegmatogenous retinal detachment and giant retinal tears in ocular hypotony. Nineteen eyes of 16 patients with significant rhegmatogenous retinal detachment associated with giant retinal tear underwent vitreoretinal surgery with or without transscleral cryopexy to reposition the retina. Nine eyes had a history of ocular hypotony, with a mean intraocular pressure of 13.8 mmHg at the time of presentation. None had a history of air injection or phacoemulsification. Of these nine eyes, six underwent repair of the giant retinal tear without silicone oil tamponade and all showed reattachment of the retina. However, two of these six eyes had significant postoperative intraocular pressure elevation that required reinjection of silicone oil. The remaining three eyes underwent conventional vitreoretinal surgery with scleral buckle placement and silicone oil tamponade. None of these three eyes maintained reattachment of the retina. Over-treatment of ocular hypotony may result in severe complications for patients with giant retinal tear-related rhegmatogenous retinal detachment. Clearing the air: Toxins and tuberculosis. Friday, May 21, 2007 When asked if he is confident he will get re-elected, he responded: "It's early, and we're in the closing days here. I think we have a great chance of winning this thing. But at this point, none of us really know. I don't think you can really predict what's going to happen in a race this close." Now, let's think. The Republicans HAVE to lose the Senate. Right? So why would the current Dixiecrat party, that is SO afraid of a Democrat takeover because they don't want to end a "virtuous war" go all out to make it happen? But don't think for a second that the party line in the South will swing into line even more with any Democrat in charge. Heck, they are fighting Dems in a state that narrowly went for McCain four years ago. They are not going to change their view of ANY Democrat, for whatever reason, just because the Democrat is trying to win. This is a great example of my "classic politics" theory in action. Those who are winning are going to try to keep winning and become more popular than ever. Those who are losing are going to run at the very last second, do everything possible to end the current term, and then put themselves out of a job for a long time to come, possibly until their grandchildren can grow up. I think this is a
