The world of Artorias is a place which banishes the Witch of Cocytus, an element from the world outside of our own. In this realm, the gods of the world, come together, and unite their powers to fend off the singularity that is occurring. In order to resist the onslaught of witches and keep the balance from falling to the realm beyond, the gods of Artorias have built a wall surrounding the world. In this wall, the "Elden Ring" is protected, a place in which the power of the gods of Artorias is fed and the fight for balance can occur. You are a human who has lived without knowledge of the existence of the Elden Ring. In order to protect and revive the Elden Ring, you are given a chance to undertake the Play, the "Seeker" quest. Yet, the power contained within the Elden Ring is so huge, it contains a great curse. That curse will come to light once it is unleashed... The next Seeker...

*NOTE: You will take over the role of the play, but it is not necessary to actually obtain the item. A big Play is a Mystery Quest which lets you look into the history of the Elden Ring. However, you will need to keep in mind that the items required to complete your Play will be needed when you start the Play. You will be placed in a world where you will meet others, and will be required to contribute to the quest while determining the course of the Play. You will be tasked with gathering all the items necessary to complete your Play, but for the next week and a half, those items will still be needed, even after starting the Play. Its completely up to you what you decide to do. But what about that big Play which you have been imagining for so long? You want to know the mystery of the next Seeker, that is in charge of protecting the Elden Ring. But that will require gathering power and being the leader of the Play... And in order to complete the Play, there are many demons that will rise up, calling for you to make a decision. In this world, I am there to guide you to lead the Play. This is the world of the Lands Between,
