From the creators of the award winning Trainz Train Simulator series, comes a heavy haul Railway Pack that transports you through the era of the Shao Shan 4 (SS4). This pack contains a single locomotive (A or B unit) and up to 20 conventional C80 Coal Wagon's (or 6 wagons consisting of 4 wagons). The SS4 was developed for the Datong - Qinhuangdao coal hauling railway. This type of locomotive was a mainstay of the 'Datong-Qinhuangdao coal heavy haul railway' for over 30 years. Its production began in the mid 1980's, and was most used until the arrival of the Chinese AC electric era. As such, this pack will recreate one of the most iconic locomotive in China's electrification history. This pack has been carefully crafted to fit the Trainz Simulator platform. No additional programs or modder modifications are required to play this pack. The pack contains various upgrades, such as, reflective texture effects, standard AC and DC break or DC shunter WDs, floor boards for the locomotive, and other light effects. The included Chinese driver 'Liew' will replace the in-game default crew and should be used for this pack. The pack also includes a separate graphical image of the C80 wagon which will replace the default version of the wagon included in the pack. Why should you buy this DLC? This DLC contains one single locomotive (A and B units) and a subset of Coal Wagon's that can be played in different consist lists, spanning 6 different configurations. This pack has been carefully crafted to work seamlessly with existing Trainz Simulator releases, and can be used alongside existing DLCs and players' custom mods in the previous Trainz series for the following games: Trainz Simulator Trainz World Trainz VR Trainz Future Other previous releases Not supported DLCs/Mods Custom Rail Packs The above DLC and the included Coal Wagon's can be dropped into any order. Claws Alien Cat Claws Gallery Alien Cat Claws - Hildegard's Review Alien Cat Claws - Hildegard's Review Today I have another blog post for you. We sure don't disappoint with our favourites are they who are designed for close ups, and this particular film feature a creature that few ever get to see! I can't remember the last time I saw the alien cat claws in this amount of detail online. That to me is scary, not knowing what lies ahead of us in the 21st century. So let's take a closer look at alien cat claws, what's in them, and their purpose. The footage of the alien cat claws is not something you can easily find on the web, it's so rare you wouldn't even know it existed. The footage I found of the alien cat claws was designed in a fashion that makes sense to this alien cat. As opposed to Bigfoot, they give you reasonable explanations as to what is living under the skin. The video for this review is just a brief yet insightful glimpse of what you're in for if you ever visit the Alien Cat Claws Live site. Very little information is supplied as to what is inside this creature's claws. The only information that is given is that they can be found in the Nunavut of Canada, so no information is given as to why they have these cat claws on them. Picture yourself in Canada or Alaska on an early spring day, when the snow is only holding on until the rising temperatures force it to melt. And in those cases with strong winds, you find yourself in under snow and frozen much easier to see this phenomenon and one such creature. During the spring the ice shrinks so they can travel, making it possible for them to then leave the snow, and travel along on land. Then to the imagination you create why the sound of milking a cat first, and the spit is produced by a bull licking its tongue or from a relative as in a sort of "chirr" sound that resembles "chirring," however cats always growl to sound threatening and frees them up in a peaceful way as well as in acts of psychic and animalistic nourishment as in fish, and all the types of animals need it to connect at another level.
