A mysterious darkness has consumed the world, leaving nothing but eerie creatures lurking in the shadows, ransacking homes and purses for valuables. Defenseless towns have fallen and you must find a way to survive long enough to save your own. The end of days is nigh. The curse is spreading. This is a short story taking place in the distant future, about a girl whose house is haunted by a ghost. Yes, this is a point and click game. I hope you enjoy my take on the genre and the genre itself. Platform: Windows Game Maker 2016 Genre: Horror / Point-and-click / Point-and-click Tags: Point-and-click, horror, point-and-click, ghost #pixelatedghost #pixelatedghosts #pixelatedghosts2019 #ghost A group of drow explorers is making their way through a huge underground labyrinth deep into an unexplored section of the Underdark. The explorers find the entrance to a new stronghold of the drow, the Rath'ashar. They enter the Rath'ashar and begin to explore, but they soon discover a horrifying secret. Portable adventure game based in Inverness, Scotland. You wake up in a wheelchair next to a body and you need to figure out who this mysterious person is and what happened to him. You will use all the objects you find in the room to investigate. A theocratic police state has been overthrown by a hungry mob and you have to assemble a team of mercenaries to mount a rescue operation. Yet you have to be careful. Will you be able to avoid the traps that will be laid in wait for you on your quest of justice and redemption? An update to last years Riddick game that I finished about two years ago. This game is much more refined and polished than last years release, and takes place around Riddick's escape into space from the first film as opposed to the second film and all the way to the third and 4th films. The wolf hunts the man The man breaks through the forest barrier They have found a way to become something worse than themselves Their hideous, deformity deforms even more They are in love With each other The wolf is in love with the man The man is in love with the wolf The wolf hunts the man They go their separate ways They are in love With each other have taken place in the gaming community this past year. This four day event took place at the Sheraton Universal Hotel and the local economy took a huge hit. This was largest convention in the United States. Shadow Harvest was the biggest competition in the gaming community this year. The 3rd Annual HaloFest became Shadow Harvest. Shortly after, the Halo Championship 2 was also held at the Sheraton Universal Hotel. What was not thought of was that the event would be held at the Sheraton Universal Hotel. The Hotel agreed to sell their flex rooms to the fans. The Hotel admits not knowing much about virtual reality and said they had to consult to their contractors. The contractors were appalled by what they saw and it was finally decided the event was to stay in the locals hotels. This would open up a market for hotels to rent. This was a very special event. This was reserved for the Halo community of fans. If anyone was to watch this event they would easily say it was the best event they've ever been. This was the first event that was developed towards the fans by the fans. The event went beyond just the fans and went for bigger players in the gaming industry. Shadow Harvest Con 2017 generated one of the largest gaming economy hit to the United States. The event was so successful that Microsoft purchased the event for four and a half millions. The event went so well they bought it by a funding of five and a half millions. Gaming consumption was heightened during this event because of the events sudden emergence. The event is designed so people could play competitive Halo, but they also could have fun playing competitive shooters with friends. One of the main goals were to award fans for being good video games while everyone was playing. Fans played Halo 5: Guardians and Destiny to earn prizes. Pro players played against each other and shared their experiences. One of the biggest events that halo fans were not aware of was the Battle for Artefact Resilience Protocols. 200 people were wearing brand new headsets watching online play and playing with friends while sharing their experience. Shadow Harvest claims to be the number one competitive event in the Halo community. Now that Shadow Harvest Con has passed and the event has gone bankrupt. The Sheraton Universal Hotel went bankrupt and also as a result the Hotel gave away the Halo 5 Requisition packs, AB2088 is widely known for his impulsive live performances, courageous journeys through a wide variety of musical genres and challenging, mind bending compositions. AB2088's music is deep, hypnotic and unique, its highly experimental nature pushing the limits of intelligent sound design. "Live", however, has always been an important part of AB2088's music, whether it is mixing live instruments or his own synthesizers. AB2088 is not a one-man-show - he employs a host of instrumentalists, some of them veterans in the electronic music scene, a live section of the audience volunteers, a group of musicians performs as a rock band, and his voice is shared with an additional live vocalist. AB2088 is very passionate about his work, and his musical ideas and visions are often developed before the live performances, deeply influenced by his collaboration and using musicians from the classical and rock music scene as well as other electronic music techniques, mixing them all live. AB2088's compositions are all rooted in the future of electronic music, a heavily improvised sound in which the rhythm, the melody and the harmony are developed together in real-time, a dense fabric of analog synthesis and organic sounds. AB2088 also deeply cares about the environment and supports the COVID-19 crisis, therefore his discography is free of DRM. AB2088's music has been described as "rock meets electro", "fusion", "dark electro", "electrocore", "beat poetry", "electrocore house", "electro-folk", "experimental", "psychedelic" and "space" - all these descriptors are just a few of them. AB2088's live performances always feature a huge variety of musical materials and instruments (from live percussion to drones, from two-piano to electro-orchestras, from live vocals to analog synthesizers, drum machines and all kinds of loops, vocals, effects, delay boxes, amplifiers, mixers and more), a large-scale, anarchic, free improvised live set.
