Field of the Invention The present invention relates to heat treatment apparatus and a heat treatment method for a semiconductor substrate used to manufacture semiconductor devices such as ICs and LSIs. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, in semiconductor manufacturing processes, as larger quantities of semiconductor devices are manufactured, finer patterning of the semiconductor devices is required. Also, when foreign matter is attached on the semiconductor devices, the performance and reliability of the devices decrease, and thus, the decrease of the yield of the devices is a serious problem. Thus, in order to enhance the yield of the devices, a method of processing an article such as a semiconductor substrate to remove contaminants by cleaning the article is used. In general, the method of cleaning an
