Westard is a one-button VR stealth game that lets you get away with crimes like bank heists and smuggling. Simply take aim at the appropriate dot and press the trigger. Release The game released its first version on 29 November 2017, followed by a closed beta on 10 January 2018. On 30 June 2018, Westard released its final version 1.3 with full menu customizations, new costumes, new guns and a new and updated tutorial. On 14 October 2018, Westard VR was released on Oculus Quest and Oculus Rift. On 30 December 2018, Steam and PSVR versions were launched. A launch trailer was released on 11 October 2018, and a 10-minute mini game demo entitled "Dirty Harry" was released on 8 January 2018. Reception The music in Westard is a mix of the tracks "Granma letra" and "La Cucaracha". The game has a 5.5/10 rating on Metacritic from a total of 26 reviews. Variety praised the game's VR mechanic, commenting "Westard helps define the nascent VR gaming genre with its fresh mechanic, immersive presentation and cautious, stealthy approach." IGN gave the game a 7/10, commenting "While Westard is enjoyable for short bursts of solo play, some of the best VR games are designed to be played with friends or in groups." Sequel Westard 2 is a multiplayer game in which players must steal the bank, rob the train, or both in four game types, in addition to the solo "mission" game type. Players must work together in teams of up to four players, cooperating to do what needs to be done. Features Key:

Troll cave (optional ruleset)

Well. The Troll Cave ruleset is cool, but it's exclusive - different than what the Monster Lair is about, it's cool for creating caves, dungeons, foraging, evisceration, and even for tracking memories. So. The Monster Lair ruleset aims to do exactly that - it relies on Unreal Engine features to create a complete Monster Lair with dungeons, ann, and more, AND within it is the Cave Player's Guide, the Monster Lair Campaign, and Environment: The Hostile Environment for this campaign that goes a bit beyond the Tavern (and even Monster Lair #1 by itself!).

In case you haven't seen the IconLair (currently at #2), it's pretty cool too - it has a Monster Lair and a Dungeonkeeper Campaign, and a few skirmishes. It can also open for purchases in the future so keep an eye out.

Note on Ice:

Ice: So, Ice, like any other special, has two effects: It can prevent or cure damage at the casting point and/or it's durations should be reduced by one (reduction per affected creature/area). If your target has been immobilized or restrained by Ice, the duration of any tied spells should be reduced by one. This may only apply once per caster though - so teleportation spells should count as "next spell" (even if the duration is not reduced by one).

Open Talent Options

This section is specifically for U6 talent builds. A few U6 talents:

- Mammoth Fangs: This allows you to be "fang-carrier" and actually to "catch" other melee, ranged, and critters. It also makes healing seem so easy that way. So, this will be your bag. It can cause potential concern for a range-heavy build, but keep in mind this applies only to melee and

We've been working on our own GFX game for quite some time, now its finally ready, come play our story driven adventure for free! Our story begins with a downcast King who died in a mysterious accident. His kingdom awaits a new monarch and his successor, a child, has just been chosen. But before the new ruler is crowned, his advisors find out the child has disappeared, and this is your mission: to save the child before anyone else does. And this is where everything starts, from there you have to do your best to follow the orders of your new Queen and defeat the evil threat that awaits. Play our game now for free We didn't want to add any card game mechanics to our game, so we created and ran a campaign called "Next." The goal of our game was to keep it as free of mechanics and elements as possible to best convey our story to people, we ended up creating a unique mechanic where you find out what to do by reading the text of our chosen portrait on a card, and whenever you come to a town, there is one type of card that a Mayor or governor will have up, and you can either help them or hurt them. Getting social with Play Online We've always liked to live stream our game development process, and we think others will be interested in seeing what we're doing. So we've created a Facebook page and Twitter account in which we will be streaming everything from development to release, so follow them if you're interested. Also the entire development of the game was released for free, if you find bugs or have any feedback to give, you can contact us at office@wihls.fr A bit about us We've all been working on Wihls since we were children and we really wanted to do something that we could be proud of. As we live streamed our game development process, we realized how we did not have the time or energy we had to create our own game, so we started to brainstorm what we could do in a way that we could make our own GFX game. And it was then that we decided to create our own game and develop it ourselves, but that meant that we had to invest a lot of time in it to make it something we were proud of. It was an exciting time for all of us, during this process we really had no idea where
