As you start setting up your workstation, Virtual Assistant Denise 1.0 GUILLE 3D Studio.rar can help by creating a task manager which helps you to. Assistente Virtual Denise 1.0 - Guile 3D Studio.rar Welcome to the Virtual Assistant Denise Welcome to the Assistente Virtual's Denise virtual assistant. Assistente Virtual Denise 1.0 - Guile 3D Studio.rarQ: Open terminal from code I'm making a video player and want to add a button to start the player. When you press the button I want the application to open a terminal (to start xvfb or whatever). How can I do this? I'm programming in C#. I can't find a sample of this anywhere. A: I believe you are looking for an ExecuteShellCommand. Something like this: Process p = new Process(); p.StartInfo.FileName = "xterm"; p.StartInfo.Arguments = string.Format("/bin/sh -l"); p.StartInfo.UseShellExecute = true; p.Start(); Note that I couldn't find a reference to the non-hidden XTerm application. A: If you are using C# 4.0, use the: Process.Start() method instead of StartInfo. A: Do this: System.Diagnostics.Process.Start("your command"); OR Process.Start("your command"); Though, this is not the fastest way. Instead, you should use: ProcessStartInfo cmdStartInfo = new ProcessStartInfo(); cmdStartInfo.CreateNoWindow = true; cmdStartInfo.UseShellExecute = false; cmdStartInfo.WindowStyle = ProcessWindowStyle.Hidden; cmdStartInfo.RedirectStandardOutput = true; cmdStartInfo.RedirectStandardError = true; cmdStartInfo.FileName = "xterm"; cmdStartInfo.Arguments = "/bin/sh -l"; Process p = Process.Start(cmdStartInfo); // Read the errors and terminate the process. if (p.WaitForExit(1000)!= true) p.Kill(); Note: Keep in mind that this might leak resources.
