Trying to make sense of this and just a bit lost. Any help is greatly appreciated. Pre Workout: Pre-workout I take APF, Pre-ex, and Muscle-build-X and then finish with a twist of Vitamin C. On the off days I do a 1g protein shake and a green tea but still drink water. Also I take FEN post workout as a way to clean my kidneys out (which have been sluggish). Post Workout: Sometimes I take a post workout protein shake or take FEN immediately after the workout. Most times I don't take anything I just take a shower/bath and get some food if I'm hungry. Interm-week: Yes, I do some work out twice in a week. Sometimes I do the week in/out split and sometimes I do the month. But I only do my upper body exercises on one day, I usually eat dinner immediately after the workout and then go right to bed. Intram-Week: Usually I start with a lot of reps (30, 50, 75, etc.) and then I reduce the number of reps and increase the weight. I do my arms on one day and chest and legs on the other day. (That's usually more volume.) Sometimes I take a rest day and just do lower/bod exercises. If I'm really tired I take a protein drink and some caffeine pills. If I'm really tired I take a protein shake as well. Post/Week: After the 7th set I'm always sore/tired, so I usually just take a cold shower to wake up so I can workout the next day. Conclusion: It's
