I need to call a promise that runs a function getSessionToken, which triggers a promise that when resolved will return a session token. Now I need to call a service to retrieve some other data, which should be the session token. This is what I have so far. It's not working. I'm getting a: GET 404 (Not Found) User.getSessionToken() doesn't exist. How do I resolve a promise inside a promise? //user.module function getUser() { return User.getSessionToken(); } // user.service function getUser() { return new Promise((resolve, reject) => { // mock the getSessionToken method const mock = jest.fn().mockReturnValue(sessionToken); resolve(mock); }); } // user.controller User.getSessionToken() .then(resolve => { return User.getDetails() .then(res => {
