Seafarer Evaluation Training System Sets Plus.14 Architecte Standard

All training and assessment of seafarers for certification will: ... Maritime training institutions must establish - create a system of quality standards ... and regularly confirm their certificates of conformity with the standards. Thus, all educational institutions must have and maintain the necessary standards. ... Teaching in educational institutions should be those who have the proper maritime certificates. In order to educate seafarers, schools must maintain established standards and continually evaluate those standards. Training must be conducted using training materials approved by government authorities.
