A key challenge of that mission is ensuring that policy has a chance of succeeding. Many of Mr. Trump's own statements have given fodder to accusations that his administration will not be tough enough on Moscow. Specifically, Mr. Trump has spoken repeatedly of offering Russian President Vladimir Putin a good personal relationship as a reward for curbing such interference, even as he has accused other nations — like China — of the same tactics. While Moscow is sure to welcome Mr. Trump's anticipated rapprochement with Mr. Putin, some experts are skeptical 0cc13bf012

I have created a js file in my project but for some reason it is not available as below. "ASR-Core" > Module > "param" A: The parameter module will not be available on Windows 8.1 as you're suggesting. It's old and used some rough API which is not compatible with the newer JavaScript features. LONDON — Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation is set to hold talks in Myanmar this weekend as the government in Naypyidaw continues to distance itself from China. Addressing the media on Friday in Beijing, Lu Wei, deputy director of the ASEAN Office, said the Asian group remained concerned about issues in the Chinese-ruled city of Rakhine State, where violence there between Buddhists and the Rohingya Muslim minority has led to a humanitarian crisis. China has defended its handling of events, with Foreign Ministry spokeswoman Hua Chunying saying at the weekend that it had "appropriately" handled the issue and that no UN rights mission had reached the region since "independent assessment" was carried out. Asked about the ASEAN's statement on the violence in Myanmar, Hua said on Friday: "We all know that violence has occurred in Rakhine State. I believe there is a mechanism in place and it is relatively in place for such a situation. And we all hope it will be resolved soon." Meanwhile, Japan's Foreign Minister Fumio Kishida on Friday urged Myanmar's military to ensure its handling of the situation. "We were concerned over the humanitarian crisis on the Myanmar-Bangladesh border, and the fact that the situation is rapidly deteriorating," Kishida told reporters in Beijing. "The military and the border guard had received the UN request for assistance, and we understand that the military has taken actions." He added that he was "heartened" by the success of ASEAN's new special envoy to Myanmar, Tharit Pengdith, to hold the dialogue with the
